

Buckley Institute

GOD AND MAN AT YALE SOCIETY

A legacy gift to the Buckley Institute is an ideal way to ensure your generosity has an enduring impact on the advancement of free speech and conservative values at Yale and beyond. To join the God and Man at Yale Society, all you need to do is contact your lawyer or financial planner and have the following sentence added to your will:

“I give, devise, and bequeath to the Buckley Institute (Tax ID #27-5131268), located at 265 Church Street, Suite 404, New Haven, CT, the sum of $[_____] or [_____]% of my estate to be used for its general support.”
fill in dollar amount or item of property to be donated fill in the percentage

We kindly request that you also fill out the form below as well. Your gift will be publicly recognized in our Annual Report, unless you request anonymity.

Launched in 2011, the mission of the Buckley Institute is to promote intellectual diversity at Yale. By providing a home for a diverse collection of serious conservative thought, we expand political discourse on campus and introduce students to often-unvoiced views. The Institute is financially independent of the University and operates as a separate 501(c)(3). Thus, we are especially dependent on your largesse.

Name: _____ Class Year: _____

Address: _____ Phone: _____

E-mail: _____

Please check one: I give permission to the Buckley Institute to include my name in the listing of God and Man at Yale supporters.
 I prefer that my legacy gift remain anonymous.